MORE DELAYS ON THE ROADS

Princess makes royal visit

PRINCESS Anne was in Oxford last Thursday as she officially opened the Severnside Institute for Biomedicine at Oxford University.

She stopped for a short time to talk to staff and see some of the research being done at the Severnside Institute.

CONSTRUCTION and roadwork delays are set to suffer further as the start of the building season is delayed by millions of pounds of work on the London Road this month.

Oxfordshire County Council will start a £10 million project on the A401 London Road in October 10 to improve public transport and cycle access, as well as the road surface.

Around 15,000 vehicles a day use the A401 and the project will involve road closures and delays are inevitable, with work set to last for seven months.

Motorists have already had to cope with delays due to the construction of the new Severnside Institute for Biomedicine at Oxford University.

The county council issued a warning for the project. About 10,000 vehicles a day use the A401 and the project will involve road closures and delays are inevitable, with work set to last for seven months.

We said "Delays are to be expected throughout the month when the road works are under way and the project is being used to ensure the daily journey to work is not disrupted and the road surface is improved."

The first phase will be the road works on the A401 and the project will involve road closures and delays are inevitable, with work set to last for seven months.

January 2011, and the millions of pounds of work on the London Road this month.

The first phase of the work will be the road works on the A401 and the project will involve road closures and delays are inevitable, with work set to last for seven months.

The road will be closed to all traffic between October 10 and the end of January next year and the road will be closed to all traffic between October 10 and the end of January next year and the road will be closed to all traffic between October 10 and the end of January next year.

Both approaches to the Severnside Institute for Biomedicine at Oxford University will be closed to all traffic between October 10 and the end of January next year and the road will be closed to all traffic between October 10 and the end of January next year.

On the north side of the London Road, between the Severnside Institute for Biomedicine at Oxford University and the Severnside Institute for Biomedicine at Oxford University, the road will be closed to all traffic between October 10 and the end of January next year and the road will be closed to all traffic between October 10 and the end of January next year.

Between January and May next year, the Severnside Institute for Biomedicine at Oxford University will be closed to all traffic between October 10 and the end of January next year and the road will be closed to all traffic between October 10 and the end of January next year.

London Road will remain open during the works with traffic diversions in place.

Merger proposed for city's children's hospice

OXFORD-BASED children's hospice Dolly & Douglas House has approached a new idea to bring in participation of potentially funding up with Westminster.

Chair Barbara Dore said that the charity Dolly & Douglas House will be shortlisted to bring in a new period while a strategy between the two hospices is considered.

It is hoped that a collaboration between the two hospices would be a successful outcome for sustainable care for children and families.

"I think any change would have to be justified in terms of agreement for the children and families," said Mr. Dore, who is also the chair of trustees of Dolly & Douglas House.

By Adam Pless

adam.pless@oxfordmail.co.uk

"It is essential to see the criteria in order to provide better care, and we can provide more sustainable care."

"There are many ways to secure the benefits from any of the changes that come up for consideration, we can do it."

"It is a significant step in the right direction for the children and families, but we can do it."

The idea of a collaboration between the two hospices has been discussed for the last few years.

Mr. Dore added that the two hospices have been in for a long time, but some changes are being made to make it work straight away.

He added that more solutions for decisions may be of longer duration.

Barbara Dore, chair of Dolly & Douglas House, said that the charity has been in for a long time, but some changes are being made to make it work straight away.

Protestor arrested at Tory conference

By Adam Pines

adam.pines@mirror.co.uk

A PROTESTOR who spent over a month camped outside David Cameron's constituency office in Watlington yesterday was arrested at the Conservative party conference in Bournemouth.

Chris Thompson, 38, from Watlington, Oxfordshire, was arrested by police for breaching the peace outside the International Convention Centre (ICC) in Bournemouth.

He had been leading Conservative protesters using a megaphone, and was arrested for being on private property.

Mr Thompson was later charged and appeared before a magistrates' court on Monday, before being released on bail to return to court on October 10.

He was protesting in part of his campaign group's protest against the Conservative Party's proposed new electoral system, the Alternative Vote.

A New Watlington 4 Justice spokesman said: "Protestor Chris Thompson has been arrested at the Tory conference."

First taste of battle for town residents

WASTAGE was taken back to life in a flash of swords and shields as 100 Vikings and Anglo-Saxons battled for victory in the town's park last weekend.

Thousands of residents welcomed the invaders who set up camp at Mase Road. Poles to mark King Alfred's death in Wastage in 887. Children had a chance to learn a sword and shield to prepare for the 10th-century King Alfred's fight to defend his land against Viking attacks.

Among those ready to battle was eight-year-old David Priday from Wastage.

King Priday's Priday said: "When we were waiting around in the morning, I felt like we had just been to a game."

It was fun to see lots of Vikings wandering around Wastage.

MP Vaizey hopes Milton Park job fair next month will 'benefit everyone'

BIGGEST MP for Falmouth has launched a job fair to help the disadvantaged people in the town and around south Cornwall.

In collaboration with local agencies MOPC and the District Jobcentre Plus have arranged business to set up for employers and job seekers to meet and discuss future prospects. The fair will take place at the Courtyard Co. Ltd, Milton Park, on November 11. It hopes to give a chance to help everyone involved.

Mr Vaizey said he hopes it will benefit everyone. He added: "I know that employment levels in the local area are very good, so some employers struggle to find the right staff. It will give some local people a chance to find the right jobs for them."

By bringing the two together with the previous support of MOPC, it will give the professional sector of the Courtyard Co. Ltd, Milton Park, on November 11. It hopes to give a chance to help everyone involved.

Philip Campbell, head of housing and development at Milton Park, added: "We are so supportive of MP Vaizey's job fair initiative."

By coming along local employers will have people looking for jobs. We can all play a small part in helping to improve people's lives and our nation's economy."

Princess Royal comes to county

PRINCESS Anne paid a visit to Oxford last week, as she celebrated the opening of Nuffield's facilities at Oxfordshire Museum and Oxford University's Kennedy Institute for Biomedicine.

The Princess Royal officially opened the museum last Thursday morning, visiting the range of life-size dioramas, Oxfordshire's first on-profile ever the room. She then met with students and awarded people in connection to the age group for the visit of her visit. Princess Anne's visit to Oxfordshire was a landmark. "It was a brilliant start. She knew exactly what the museum was about and brought a very good link with her."

"The purpose of our museum is to tell the stories of local people in Oxford and how the county has developed with the product the county was involved in."

One of Princess Anne's main aims was to say that with this facility, she would be surprised if we weren't delighted with local people.

She then headed into the city to the newly opened Oxford Kennedy Institute for Biomedicine.

Construction of the £10million facility was completed last year and has been named after the

who are studying the cancer and treatments for children.

Princess Anne was also a member of the site to the academic director Prof Sir Sir Mark Pridmore and Professor Fiona Pridmore, who are the position yesterday.

Professor Pridmore said: "The focus of our research is to develop new treatments that can help people with cancer."

"It is a pleasure to be able to contribute to the research with the rest of the Princess Royal."

"I feel it is a real privilege to be able to contribute to the research with the rest of the Princess Royal."

Connells Agent asking sellers to set them the 'Six Week Challenge' to shift their homes quickly

As the nights start to draw in local estate agency Connells in Caerdydd is pleased to report it is seeing several signs of light in the local property market. The agent has experienced a real upturn in home sales in recent weeks and is now seeing a real upturn in the Christmas holiday season. Agents say they have only started the Six Week Challenge campaign, giving homeowners a chance to sell their property in just six weeks and for the best price.

Connells Six Week Challenge is designed to help those looking to move faster than a snail's pace.

Writing at all the time, experts and knowledge of the local housing market, Connells puts all the signs to get started, putting properties on the market in under six weeks. "There are many reasons why people need to sell their homes as quickly as possible," said Julie Oliver, Connells manager for Caerdydd.

"For many it's down to personal circumstances such as moving to work while some have sold their homes as a result of a divorce and need to secure a new home. Others are simply looking to move to a new home and are putting in an offer."

"Whether the reason is Connells Six Week Challenge is designed to help those individuals who are in a hurry to move," Julie continued.

"We've written campaigns with each estate agent in the area, urging agents to help those who are in a hurry to move. We've also written campaigns to help those who are in a hurry to move."

Connells in Caerdydd is seeing a greater degree of confidence across the market than before. This is good news for buyers who are looking to purchase a new home but it is also good news for sellers who are looking to sell their homes quickly.

"It is not unusual at this time of year to see more people looking to move," Julie added.

"We often find with the summer and the weather that a lot of people can turn their attention to moving homes."

"Whether you are buying for the first time, upgrading, downsizing or looking for your ultimate destination, we are going to be able to get the ball rolling for you and to move before Christmas."

The beauty of war and the profound joy of coming together in the aftermath does not fade

private peaceful

by Michael Morpurgo
the author of The Boy Who Swam to Africa

COMMUNICATING the truth was never easy at World War One. Private Peaceful enters the tale of Private Tommy Peaceful, a young soldier awaiting the final notice of death. During the night, he looks back at his short but painful past growing up in rural Dorset. His exciting last days at school. The war itself in the front line. And his father's last adventures with his mother's love and the brilliant and agonising war that brought him to the front line.

Winner of the 2005 Peter Shreeve of the Year Private Peaceful is by David Almond, Michael Morpurgo, The Guardian came from a man in Spain where he was charged to discover how many young soldiers were sent to the front line and how they were treated. Private Peaceful at the theatre is a moving experience that not only tells the story of a young soldier's last day in World War One but perhaps more importantly captures the essence of human spirit. DRIVEWAY RENOVATION

"Would highly recommend. From Gervin giving us the quote right through to the completion, we were kept informed and updated. The team are very hard working, polite and attentive of your requirements. The difference the work has made, makes the time of our house so much better and lots of neighbours have commented on how hard the guys worked and what a great job they have done."

Car giant's latest sporty number brimming with style and ready to launch next year

Land Rover's newest model

IN 1938, Great Britain was ruled back to a brand new car manufacturer based on and the Jeep which was used during World War II - the Land Rover.

And 14 years on, the car has gone through many models such as the Range Rover, the Land Rover Defender and the Land Rover Discovery.

To follow on from these successes, the UK-based manufacturer has announced a new discovery spin to be released in the early stages of 2015.

Curry McQuinn, Lead Designer, says "Our challenge here was to create a program design with very broad versatility. The two attributes must work in harmony."

It will be equipped with the powerful and refined 2.2-liter XEM turbo-diesel engine, available 160 HP.

Myth: Last year's penny pass.
By James Richards

That will also feature stop-start technology, high-pressure direct injection, low-friction internal components and smart regeneration strategy for outstanding performance and economy.

Later in 1972, a highly efficient two-wheel drive 474 series diesel engine will join the range with DDE transmission.

A service plan will be available from launch in the UK offering five years or 100,000 miles worth of servicing, which ever is sooner – all on approval of service centre for the vehicle. £1,450 of £1,000.

It had all announcements have allowed Discovery Sport to introduce the versatility of a SUV alongside the premium compact SUV class for the first time.

It will allow small but more and not only provides surprising driving dynamics but it also provides ample storage space, space, comfort, and Coupled with ample long-brued experience, the innovative boat club also ensures the Discovery Sport is fun. Artfully refined and designed to drive around while retaining the traditional 18-tonnage capability for which Land Rover is world renowned.

And the advanced technology used to do these things is just an offshoot of the technology that's been used in the development of the Discovery itself, with a lot of clean, pedestrian, safe, emergency braking, and a body shell with bolts strong enough to stand up to lightning strikes.

eight inch by six screen submersed system, and standard fill and sludge two working for maximum efficiency and safety.

When the vehicle is dock for release, a release of pressure will be made from under the pump for a 100% release up to 100,000-200,000 lbs. (January 2002)

Welsh urged to bounce back after fourth loss

Early exit from FA Cup for City

GLoucester City were dumped out of the FA Cup after a second crushing defeat on Saturday as they were beaten 2-1 by Barnet. The result is a blow to the club's hopes of reaching the FA Cup final.

After a second defeat, the club's hopes of reaching the FA Cup final are now slim. The club's manager, John Toshack, said: "We were disappointed to lose, but we will bounce back. We will be back in the FA Cup next week." The club's next game is against Barnet on Saturday.

City are currently fifth in the Conference North and last points behind league leaders AFC Walsley. The club's next game is against Barnet on Saturday.

And before last week's FA Cup defeat, Barnet made two appearances in the FA Cup. The club's next game is against Barnet on Saturday.

However, the club's next game is against Barnet on Saturday. The club's next game is against Barnet on Saturday.

LONDON Welsh forward Ben Pennington says he and his team must bounce back after a fourth loss on Saturday after suffering a fourth successive heavy defeat at home.

Pennington, who scored the only goal for the Welsh in their 1-2 defeat at home, said: "We were disappointed to lose, but we will bounce back. We will be back in the FA Cup next week." The club's next game is against Barnet on Saturday.

He said: "We have got to get back on our feet and bounce back. We will be back in the FA Cup next week." The club's next game is against Barnet on Saturday.

It was a bitter pill to swallow for the Welsh, who have now lost four of their last five games. The club's next game is against Barnet on Saturday.
